

Mission

Export Environnement is a business club at the service of Canadian companies. The club's aim is to facilitate the penetration of foreign markets by SMEs. Be it through the organization of trade missions or the provision of advisory services, EXPORT Environnement offers specialized services adapted to the specific needs of the industry's businesses. These personalized services are directed exclusively towards the environmental, energy and sustainable development industries.

Our services are also available to foreign companies having interests in common with us.

As a non-profit organization, EXPORT Environnement seeks to offer exportation and market diversification support services to Canadian businesses in the environmental, energy and sustainable development sector.

Founded on July 14, 2006, this new association assumed the sound and ambitious mandate of providing effective support to the internationalization of businesses that currently export, or that wish to commence to do so, by implementing concrete actions in accordance with a clear objective and a rigorous methodology.

EXPORT Environnement's vision is to facilitate the success of its members permitting the generation of significant increases in sales, the identification of partners or distributors and the elaboration of market penetration or diversification strategies. The business club has exceptional expertise in this specialized market, a unique methodology, the required tools and a multinational network of contacts, all of which combine to produce rapid and fruitful results at a much lower cost.
